BIG FIGHT IN NATIONAL EDUCATIONAL ASSOCIATION

Chicago, July 2 .- A big fight over the adoption of a new charater is scheduled to take place in the convention of the National Education association of the National Education association at Los Angeles, next week, and the leaders of the disturbances will be Margaret Haiey and 90 members of the teachers' union of Chicago.

Miss Haley and her followers, who will control the vote of the illinois delegation, leparted on a special train over the Burlington last night. On a Santa Fe train which left earlier were 40 Chicago public school principals.

were 40 Chicago public school principals,

According to Miss Haley, the committee appointed at the Asbury Park convention was instructed merely to reincorporate the organization.

"Instead of following instructions," said she, "the 'committee got Congress to pass a bill giving the association a new charter which included a set of by-laws. This has proved extremely objectionable in many ways. It not only continues the life directors, but there are more of them than there are state directors. The five trustees elected by the directors have more power than the present constitution allows. They are the custodians of the $147,000 fund and have sole initiative in expenditures. The directors have none.

"The educational policy is controlled by a national council which practically is separate from the association. This council manages to perpetuate itself. In 1894 Frank Fitzpatrick of Boston, agent of the American Book company, was president of the council."

Miss Haley asserted that the principal author of the situation was Newton C. Dougherty of Peoria, now serving a penitentiary term for embezzlement and forgery. Dougherty for several years was an officer and leader in the association.

OMINOUS JAP COMMENT ON SAN FRANCISCO SITUATION

SAN FRANCISCO SITUATION.

Tokio. July 2.—The Nichi Nichi in a leader regrets the necessity of being compelled to write egain on the American question in defense of the right of Japanese comparisots in £an Francisco.

"Developments in the anti-Japanese sentiment," says the paper, "show signs of progressive and systematic movements alming at the deprivation of the sources of livelihood of our compatriots. The last clause of article second of the treaty can properly be called into operation only after a law has been passed but no legal slep has been taken by the federal government disabling the Japanese from engaging in the employment agency business. The action of the San Francisco authorities is unbearable. Neither the Washington nor the Tokio government can remain inactive in view of the latest action of the San Francisco authorities against the Japanese. The time has come when the traditional friendship between both nations shall be domonstrated on some concrete form."

The Nichi Nichi is owned by Kato, Viscount Hayashi's predecessor in the foreign office. He is a tried diplomat of the trusted lieutenants of Marquis Ito. Diplomatic questions that find expression in the Nichi Nichi form one of the most important meters of Japanese sentiment.

The Kentucky feud as it existed between families in the early days of the Civil war is told in an interesting manner and the characters needed in the telling afford the Orpheum players opportunities to show their talent. Exchanges have been talking of the Wewoka girl who is so bashful that she cannot see a sleeping car without blushin; of an Ada girl who faints at the sight of undressed lumber; the National girl who looks herself in her room when she wants to change her mind; the Wetumka girl who never thinks of retiring with a copy of the Christian Observer in her room; the Shawnee girl who is so shy she will not wear undressed kid gloves.
